Come find out how GIS can help your organization, as we share new ideas, tell our stories and explore...
"Spatial Innovation"

Attendees

Geographic Information Systems (GIS) is a horizontal technology that intersects all industries. It blends the geographic sciences with information technology. This conference is for the novice to the analyst, the technologist to the executive. Disciplines of interest include:

- All levels of Government
- Environmental Resources
- Water Management Organizations
- Utilities
- Engineering
- Surveying
- Land Management
- Information Technology
- Law Enforcement
- Emergency Management

Objectives

The goals of this synergistic public/private conference are:

- To educate on various aspects of GIS
- To inform on emerging GIS technologies
- To offer professional networking opportunities
